What wouldn't Jesus do?

Felix(SkiTotal) does the ultimate walk of shame

Wanton Jesabell, Harri(Jump) in a desperate attempt to atone for her sins after a recent bout of gangbangs outside Kalicos gave Jesus (Felix Ski Total) lodging for the night after he misses the last bus home. After a night of miracles and a rumoured case of Immaculate Conception it was time for Hay-soos to depart. Incidentally, despite intervention from upstairs, he missed the morning bus as well and had to hail it in the middle of the road using his crucifix. But I guess it was just his normal cross to bear. After being sent down the word is he will be rise again (public transport permitting) next week in a different form.

A note from the editor

Before I start I would like to dedicate this weeks edition to the lovely Louise Room without whom it wouldn't have been possible. Her donation of all the photos and several of the stories have made this issue a lot better one than it would have been without them.

As many people have pointed out there are only 4 more transfer days left until the end of the season. So there is no time to lose in making the most of March/April.

If you're not doing anything special on Wednesday why not come and support the Courchevel team in Chamonix (details on page 2). With forecasted sunshine it should be a great day out.

On Wednesday week, March 26th the blue ribbon event of the saisonnaire calendar takes place. Start getting your teams together.

THE SURGEON GENERAL WARNS

Doing ski seasons can be highly addictive, can seriously damage your sanity, result in a general lack of sleep, makes your arse bigger, increase the chances of getting a blow job in the skidoo hut outside Kalico and waking up next to a complete stranger.

Legal Disclaimer Notice: The articles you are reading are parody. Its stories are not fact checked. Its reporters are not journalists. And its opinions are not fully thought through. All stories printed in The Courchevel Enquirer are purely fictional and alleged and shouldn't be taken too seriously. Any similarity with any real people is purely coincidental. Anyone found taking the stories too serious should be quickly restrained and given a sense of humour.

Support your resort!

And Support your co-workers. On Wednesday Courchevel are sending a team of 13 brave people (including G from Scott Dunn and Jen, Ben, Gregg from Ski Higher) to compete against some of the best bumps skiers from Val d'Isere, Meribel, Val Thorens, Verbier, Zermatt, Chamonix and Engelberg. Considering they will be going down a steep black run peppered with nasty large moguls it would be nice if they had some support on the day. The first time Courchevel went to Chamonix in 2002 we had a grand total of 5 people supporting the team. Every time one of our team finished a run they were greeted with a relative whimper compared to the huge cheer from the other resorts entourages. To put things in perspective Zermatt have never turned up with less than two coach load of supporters. With a few days before the event and at the moment the Courchevel coach still has many spaces.

Everyone who has come to Chamonix in the past, whether to have a day skiing in the Grand Montets area, to cheer on the Courchevel team from the side of the course or just to spend the day in Chamonix town have all had a great day out.

The coach leaves Courchevel 1850 from outside the gendarmerie at 8am sharp and stops in 1650, 1550 and Le Praz. At the end of the day we leave Chamonix town at 9.30pm and returns at about midnight.

Wedgie war

Former Picnics on the Piste, Ben, and Jonny (Ski Higher) got a little rambunkious as their wedgie war escalated. Not satisfied with simply flossing between each others buttocks it escalated until their underpants could no longer take the strain and started to disintegrate. Instead of just discarding the spent underwear it was felt that the waistbands should be changed to headbands. Scholars of such matters refer to the phenomenon of the "Atomic Wedgie" which requires more substantial garments (think M&S instead of Calvin Klein) in order for the waistband to be raised over the recipients head.

Buckaroo

I know it's hard to make out but you are looking at Jimbo(Jump) the human buckaroo. For those of you who are unfamiliar with the game it consists of players take turns placing various items onto the unconscious person's body. They must do so very gently, so as not to wake him which can cause an avalanche of furniture.

No one is safe in the Jump.

As you can see not even punters are immune from random acts of graffiti if they decide to have a drunken nap in the Jump bar.

Season Events Calendars

Those of you who were expecting a relaxing first week of the season should think again. Almost every day of the week we have some event.

Wed 19th March - Boss des Bosses, Chamonix

Wed 26th March - 3 Valley Rally, Kalico

Wed 16th April - End of Season Ball

Sat 19th April - Closing night ISBA bar

Sat 27th April - Season ends

Chaz(Supertravel) nearly doesn't get a year older

After consuming 17 consecutive shots and a very dirty pint on his Birthday Chaz (Supertravel) passed out while walking home. Choking on his own vomit he stopped breathing for 2 minutes and was taken down to Moutiers hospital who would not accept him because he was so intoxicated. Stopped off en route home in le Praz for a piss took two steps out of car fell on his head and hit a rock. Smashed it open and had to be taken down to Moutiers hospital for second time that eve, where for the second time he was rejected. Despite Rory covered for him the following morning making breakfast for his guests Chaz's employment status was "changeable" over the following days. Luckily for him he still has a job.

As a responsible journalist it's required nowadays that I should make a comment about binge drinking and perpetuating the stereotypical image of the English lad abroad but I think Chaz has suffered enough.
