G(Scott Dunn) pulls a perfect grab off his secret tree kicker

A note from the editor

It's strange, even though there are over 2 meters snow on the Saulier (and more to come) and some of the lifts are open for another 3 weeks the Courchevel pistes are starting to resemble a ghost town.

La Grange nightclub closed on the 31st March. Most of the 4 star luxe hotel are getting ready to close if they haven't already. With the exception of a select few tour operators most of them are closing down on the 12/13th .

And all because the early arrival of Easter this year. So where's it written that it's wrong to go skiing after Easter? And lo it came to pass on the third day he rose again and said "you really should stop skiing and think about booking your summer holidays instead".

Anyone who is here for the last weeks of the season had better have their livers in check because it's going to get some serious abuse.

It all kicks off with the ISBA bar closing night which has come forward a week to Sunday the 13th. Although the exact theme is secret the only warning is "don't wear anything you want to keep".

On the 14th the Jump bar is closed for their staff party so find an alternative venue to get drunk.

On Wednesday 16th is the End of Season ball at Chalet de Pierres.

After a few days rest the Kalico is closing on the Saturday 19th followed by the closing of the Jump bar on Monday the 21st

THE SURGEON GENERAL WARNS

Doing ski seasons can be highly addictive, can seriously damage your sanity, result in a general lack of sleep, makes your arse bigger, increase the chances of getting a blow job in the skidoo hut outside Kalico and waking up next to a complete stranger.

TICKETS ONLY AVAILABLE AT THE JUMP BAR

IT'S NOT JUST AN "1850" THING

Jen gets the ball rolling.

Like last year Jen(Ski Higher) kicked off the ticket sales buying the first one for the end of season ball.

They are only available at the Jump bar in 1850 and so I know total numbers all tickets could be purchased before Monday 14th. If you have any question please contact me on 0673242825.

the evening starts with a couple of drinks in the Jumps followed by a taxi ride to within easy walking distance of Chalet des Pierres.

The menu at Chalet de Pierres includes a goats cheese salad to start, followed by Chicken roasted vegetables and potato dauphinoise and a tart tatin with ice cream for desert with coffee to finish. A vegetarian option is also available (please state any dietary requirements / allergies when buying ticket) and ½ bottle of wine is included.

Voting forms for the end of season awards can be found behind the Jump bar. Categories include the euphemistic Most popular girl and boy, Best quote, Most talk it up (all the gear and no idea) and Best story. Anyone worried about the equitability of the process will be pleased to know the Courchevel electoral commission (me) will be using the Robert Mugabe vote counting system.

Former Jump bar man, Dan, will be comparing the end of season awards. So expect some lively banter even if he has no idea who you are.

After Bring your Sisters play one of their last sessions of the season the party continues down at Kalicos. If you're in the right place at the right time you might get a lift down to Courchevel in Chalet des Pierres OWN SNOWCAT. (spaces are limited)

All in all a great evening in a great location. I hope to see you there.

Mo-March

By all accounts the phenomenon that is Mo-March was a MASSIVE success. The final was held in Le Bubble on 1st April. After a month of pub golf, naked skiing, naked Bring Your Sisters, Tequila drinking, head shaving, ass spanking, poker playing, ski racing and a lot of begging, all involved raised over 6000 Euros for Disability Snowsports UK. We had no big donors or coporate sponsorship, this came for real hard work and selfless determination from the seannaire's involved.

All of us now have a real sense of pride for our achievement.

Tom from LeSki won the Most Money raised category and amongst other things bagged himself a parapenting session and a New Generation Ski School Jacket! Other winners were Sandy from Neilson for Most Style, Hammo from Ski Olympic for Most Growth and Nick from Ski Olympic for the Bumfluff award. Gareth from Supreme Ski School was there to accept the money on behalf of Disability Snowsports UK and in the memory of Simon Brooke Trouble at the top.

After a couple of weeks of grace reporting on various events it's time to catch up with the goings on of Skival resort manager, Dave. Most recently Dave had his collar felt in what I am calling Dave fought the law and the law went and got reinforcements.

It all started when a municipal policeman took offence to the parking of the Skival car outside the ISBA. As he started to write a ticket Dave began to move the vehicle but was blocked in by the cops tow truck. What followed was a heated exchange of French English words and the tossing of the parking ticket in the general direction of the French traffic warden. Not satisfied they returned later with the Gendarmes who were far more calm about the matter and, much to the disappointment of many of the staff, didn't take him off in handcuffs for a night in the cells.

A few weeks before that it looked like the ISBA was hosting a chav convention (not that theres anything wrong with that). Now I don't know if it was the fake Burberry or the tracksuits but Dave's customer servicing skills were focused on one of the more mature female members of the group, a CMILF by any modern terminology. I would never want to be as callous to call someone a chav melon farmer (as the film censors would say) without evidence. Whether she had actually given birth is purely semantics.

All hail the king

Reader of the Enquirer will be familiar with his face after he was caught doing a very biblical walk of shame (issue 15). Better known as Felix from Total Ski. Now renamed as 'The King of Bad Taste'. 'From a Fairytale' included wizards, tin men, witches and Felix who came as Jesus. Following that we held 'In a Hospital' including skeletons, babies and Felix as Dr Harold Shipman carrying a can of Dr Peppers with 'How bad can it get?!!' The race is now on for the overall title between Le Ski and Total Ski!

Our final theme night - 'In the Sky' will be held on Wednesday 9th April.

Season Events Calendars

Seasonnaire Hoodies

A quick note about the status of the seasonnaire hoodies. Following a supply problem from China, stock of equal quality has been sourced from the UK and are currently at the printers.

Apologies all round from everyone at Natives.

Everything should be despatched from London on Monday and get here on Thursday. As soon as they arrive all managers will be informed to arrange delivery.

If you are going home before Thursday please give me your UK address (before Monday) so that your hoody can be posted to you directly.
