The pole issue

A Note from the editor

On the opening night of Kalico it was left to the returning seasonnaires to christen the new pole on the dance floor. After watching the French handle the metal shaft like it was going to bite them back it was down to the muscular endurance, coordination and combined sensuality of Mik, Benny and Jimbo to show them how it's done. Never before have I seen a pole being given such a workout since the third Reich released the Hermann Goering concentration camp aerobics video..

Emotional guidance

Probably due to the advancement of my years and my general air of authority many people ask me for advice throughout a season. Which is the this? How do you do that? I think it has something to do with me having "tourist information" tattooed on my forehead.

Generally, thanks to the intoxicated state of the workers and the loud music on the opening night of Kalico, such an inquisition is less common.

There was one exception as I was asked in the early hours of Sunday morning.

Jimbo(Jump) shows everyone how to tame the pole

Due to the nature of the question and the fact it was asked in confidence both parties will remain anonymous so as not to cause ones blushes and the others ego to inflate.

To get to the point here is a quick précis of the conversation. "I really fancy someone but I think he's out of my league".

My answer was to go for it. Without being so clichéd as spouting Latin prose "Carpe Diem" I want the emphasis on making the most of current opportunities because life is short and time is fleeting. Perhaps while in this classical vein I should say "Memento mori" which would be more suitable.

Now I'm not saying this so as to get everyone bed hopping from staff accommodation to staff accommodation although you could see how my writing would benefit. I just don't want to think "What if?". If that someone special does says NO then move on, at least you know. No one is "out of your league", thanks to patented Mutzig beer goggles enough people have woken up with someone who isn't their "type".

Now there's something you don't normally see in a ski resort

Instead of being delivered to the Croisette in Cannes this Azimut motor yacht has done a bit of Titanic and has run aground on some ice. Purely as an advertisement for their wares. Instead of a billboard or full page advert in Courchevel magazine Azimut decided to tow this 50 foot mobile traffic jam into 1850.

How long it will be here? unknown.

When will it be floating in the lake by the Mercure hotel? (soon if you believe that "gullible" has been removed from the dictionary).

How likely one of the Russians visitors will purchase one and park it outside his chalet? Very.

Saulier yet so far

Anyone looking to take advantage of the snow at the top of Saulier will have noticed the large Saulier telepherique is out of action and the Vizelle bubble is being used instead. While descending, one of the cars apparently hit the cradle and caused enough damage to require its removal. Reports are that, after a safety inspection, one of the cable cars will be working again on Monday. Currently there is no news about when it will be fully functional again. Anyone looking to avoid the queues take note. As well as the Vizelle bubble, taking Biolay & Suisse chairs will get you to the summit or Chenus & Col de la Loze to get over to Meribel.

JAMES says*

"After a full day on the mountain remove your clammy ski boot linings so they can dry out and then re-buckle your boots so they don't lose their shape."

WHY? Because he's a BASI ski instructor and he has the id card to prove it.

The enquirer doesn't support or condone anything that James says.*

Incontinence pants wanted

Not everyone survived the opening of Kalicos unscathed. Thanks to copious amounts of 1664 and a brief dalliance with a shiny metal shaft some where so excited after they left that certain bodily functions were out of their control as they slept. I know he's young but there is no excuse (with the exception of spooning with co-workers Paul and Greg) for Johnie(ski higher) soiling his bed linen.

Right to reply

If you disagree or fell you have been wronged by anything that is written on this sheet I offer you the right to reply. As long as its not obscene or overly offensive I will print it word for word.

One of the major criticisms, One of the MANY major criticisms I get about this paper is that of all the Courchevel villages it only covers 1850 and sometimes 1650. The explanation for this is simple. I live in and drink around the bars of 1850 and so I hear what goes on in 1850. That's were you come in. If you have any stories, gossip, photos, suggestions etc. I want to hear from you.

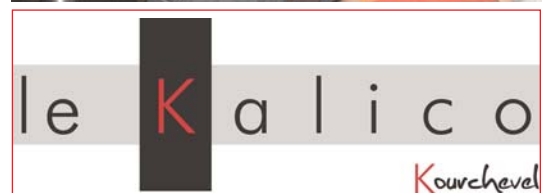

As an added incentive the best article submitted every week will receive a case of beer.

I am usually in one of the 1850 bars every evening. Alternatively for those of you who are more technically minded you can email be directly on info@courchevelenquirer.com

The Courchevel Enquirer comes out every Saturday. I look forward to hearing from you.

Confidentiality assured! honestly!!
