Along came Polly

Polly(jump) dives in for a closer look

Polly the chased

The recently singled Polly has been a busy girl this week. As you can see from the above photo her appetite for men hasn't been reduced. Tristan(Ski Higher) was on hand to relieve her break-up grief. Not to say she has only been the target of male affection. After a night on the lash she was the recipient of a spooning from Nikki. Who in turn received the affections of a very drunk Hannah (Mark Warner) in Kalicos which in turn supports the rumours that Hannah is actually a boy which in turn supports her drunken ladet behaviour.

A note from the editor

After what was generally judged as a rant by me last week I have to say I was wrong about judging all of Courchevel together. Since then I have found a section of Courchevel who really know how to make the most of their season. It's in a small place down the road called 1650. There are a couple of bars there and get this. Apparently they even have regular buses that connect to 1850. Guess you learn something new every week. Anyway enough about them lets talk about 1850. Tuesday 8pm there is a ballon balai de saisonnaires competition at the ice rink. Teams of 5 with at least 2 girls. On Wednesday over in Meribel Natives are having a seaonnaire slalom race. Anyone interested in entering should register with Jen in Ski Higher by Tuesday (it's cheaper than just turning up on Wednesday). At 4pm Kalico, as part of Columbia ride week, are having a rail competition outside the club with parachutists and loads of other extreme stuff going on.

THE SURGEON GENERAL WARNS

Doing ski seasons can be highly addictive, can seriously damage your sanity, result in a general lack of sleep, makes your arse bigger, increase the chances of getting a blow job in the skidoo hut outside Kalico and waking up next to a complete stranger.

Boss des Bosses

Wednesday 19 March 2008

Why am I devoting half a page to an event that is two months away? Simple ask anyone who has gone before (Ben POTP, Mik ISBA, Benny SkiVal, Jimbo Jump) and they will tell you the Boss des Bosses is one of the great days out in the season. Whether you want to compete like Ben (below left) in the mogul competition (and if you do please get in touch with Hoops in Ski Higher) or more importantly want to come along and support your team and resort. I organise a coach to take us over to Chamonix for the day. Seats can be reserved from Ski Supreme in Courchevel 1850 from February. If Wednesday is not your day off have a word with your resort manager and ask if they can change it for that week. Great mogul skiing, live music and Dj's, great drinking. Don't wait till the last minute otherwise you might miss out.

Santa's little helper

One of the great things while doing a season is finding out other peoples education/ employment history. For example when I started doing seasons I tried to get a job as a plongeur but was rejected for some spurious reason. It turns out that Harriet(Jump) applied for a job and was declined as an elf at Father Christmas's grotto in Scandinavia. This is strange as many people have commented on her elfishness.

Cara pole injury

Well it had to happen sooner or later. The Kalico pole has had its first casualty. On Thursday night with the help of her co-workers Cara(Ski Higher) made her way to the top of the pole. After touching the ceiling the command was given to let her descend. Unfortunately she lost her grip on the pole and landed heavily on her back. After a trip down to Moutiers in the back of an ambulance she was told that nothing was broken.

From the desk of blonde and blonder comes another story of silliness. Not as blonde as sticking certain body parts into a blender (rated 87 on the Clairol nice and easy scale) but still lighter than Natural Auburn.

Ski Highers Johnny and Tom decided to dress up in womens clothing and each got a pair of Georgina's (Powder white) favourite size zeros jeans. Now even before I start I'm sure you can tell the outcome of trying to pour a litre into a pint glass. Let's just say the hills were alive with the sound of tearing denim. With the slightest arousal Tom's man bits made a bid for freedom from their denim straight jacket. Starting in the crouch region and making its way down the leg it looked like something out of the incredible hulk. Referring of course to the tear and not Tom's cock although reports that theres a slightly green rash are false and anyway the medicated cream is clearing up the problem if there was one.

JAMES says*

"Don't listen to those voices in your head. Your co-workers don't deserve to die by your hand."

WHY? Because he's a BASI ski instructor and he has the id card to prove it.

Courchevel altiport polo.

Anyone trying to land the private jet on Friday / Saturday would have a nasty shock as they came in for final approach. Not as big a shock as anyone coming into Heathrow south runway but they don't have teams of equines scampering on the runway.

Taking a leaf out of St Moritz and Aspen's book Courchevel has modified the top of the runway into a snow polo field calling it the highest polo tournament in the world. The titles of the team might have read Moscow v Courchevel but as Courchevel isn't the winter home to a large crowd of polo playing professionals they have come from Argentina and as Moscow has the same problem all their team were Dutch. Surely this begs the question why they didn't just have a Holland v Argentina match instead.

Version Originals (VOST)

Courchevel has two very good little cinemas. The Tremplin 1850, below the Tremplin restaurant in the Croisette and The Villard, based down in Courchevel 1650.

Below are the English films on at the cinema this week.

Tremplin, Courchevel 1850

Mon 21st 8pm - We own the night
 Starring: Joaquin Phoenix, Mark Wahlberg, Eva Mendes, Robert Duvall

Plot:
 New York City, 1988. Club manager Bobby Green (Phoenix) hasn't told his criminal associates that his brother Joe (Wahlberg) and father Burt (Duvall) are prominent policemen. When Joe is seriously injured, Bobby resolves to take up his crusade. ★★

Tues 22nd 8pm - The Golden compass

Starring: Nicole Kidman, Eva Green, Daniel Craig, Dakota Blue Richards, Ben Walker, Ian McKellen, Ian McShane, Jim Carter Tom Courtenay

Plot:
 When a spate of child kidnappings claims her friend Roger, Lyra (Richards) sets off to rescue him. This brings her into a battle between her world's religious government and her only known relative (Craig), who's set on (heretically) proving the existence of parallel worlds. ★★

Villard, Courchevel 1650

Sun 20th 9pm - We own the night ★★
