Happy Christmas

Skival manage to find three wise men and a virgin....

A note from the editor

So did Santa leave anything good in your stocking this year? Were you naughty or nice? Can you remember who you snogged in Kalico? I didn't think so.

Now Christmas is already a distant alcohol hazed memory it's time to get ready for the main event of New Years Eve. The metaphorical bottle of vodka compared to the Noel demi panache. Most of the bars have a very late licence. Kalico goes on into the early hours. Big Party and fireworks on the piste outside the croisette. Usually very cold so wrap up warm and spend at least 15 minutes ushering in the new year.

So until 2009 have a good time and try to remain semi-conscious. All the photos from Christmas and the Natives night at Kalico are on the enquirer website.

Don't forget if you wish to receive the enquirer directly in your email inbox you can sign up on www.courchevelenquirer.com.

Injury of the week

In what can only be seen a desperate attempt to appear in the paper every week Lucy (TJ's) has turned to messing with the laws of thermodynamics where two opposing temperatures are concerned. Lesson 1. Hot things generally are larger than cold things. Lesson 2. Thick glass cracks quicker than thin glass. Lesson 3. A razorsharp object drawn across soft flesh will generally cut very easily. Finally Lesson 4. If you need to hitch a lift Lucy is currently an ideal partner.

Ben(Ski Higher) shared his surgery photos from the summer. After dislocating his shoulder for the umpteenth time he decided to get it fixed. With a staple or three holding the wound together Ben should be back on the slopes in January.
