I WANT YOU!
to dish the dirt

One of the major criticisms, One of the MANY major criticisms I get about this paper is that of all the Courchevel villages it only covers 1850 and sometimes 1650. The explanation for this is simple. I live in and drink around the bars of 1850 and so I hear what goes on in 1850. That's were you come in. If you have any stories, gossip, photos, suggestions etc. I want to hear from you.

As an added incentive the best article submitted every week will receive a case of beer. I am usually in one of the 1850 bars every evening. Alternatively for those of you who are more technically minded you can email be directly on info@courchevelenquirer.com The Courchevel Enquirer comes out every Saturday. I look forward to hearing from you.

Dogging

So for those of you who have just led a sheltered life in a convent. Dogging is a British euphemism for engaging in sexual acts in a semi-public place, typically a secluded car park, or have others looking on. Mainly the tabloid reserve of Eastenders actor Steve McFadden and footballer Stan Collymore.

Luckily in Courchevel, such private outdoor venues are hard to find and overly chilly so as an alternative, staff accommodation becomes it's very own private dogging arena. With an audience of dormant coworkers.

Say someone, for example Matt(Jump) brought back a young lady on a cold Wednesday night, regardless of how quiet he tries to be his other roommates WILL be awoken by his arrival and her subsequent cravings for a knob of Matt's cheese from the kitchen and no matter how many pillows they arrange around their ears WILL be kept wide awake by the plethora of audible moans/grunts/squeaks/monkey noises (delete as applicable), no matter how quiet, as the drunken copulation take place. Worst still is if you happen to be on the lower bunk to Matt (Pete) you not only get the sound effects but you get the full sensesurround experience with the rocking/swaying of the bed.

A note from the editor

Well that's the end of January (already) and would you believe it, for some hotels, there are only about 10 weeks left of the season so make the most of every one of them. Compared to Jan or March, February is quite quiet events-wise but as soon as I hear of anything I will let you all know.

Don't forget to don you hawaian shirts on Tuesday night for Tropical night in the Kalico.

Please don't forget the seasonaire hoody forms need to be returned to me (with money) by 7th Feb. And as always, if you wish to receive the enquirer directly in your email inbox you can sign up on www.courchevelenquirer.com.

THE SURGEON GENERAL WARNS

Doing ski seasons can be highly addictive, can seriously damage your sanity, result in a general lack of sleep, makes your arse bigger, increase the chances of getting a blow job in the skidoo hut outside Kalico and waking up next to a complete stranger.

Workers challenge race report

After a good dump of snow the storm broke to reveal blue skies and perfect racing conditions for the Natives workers challenge. Once again Meribel stade course hosted the 2 races. First was the individual GS followed by the shorter head to head team slalom. Both commentated by the dulcet tones of "Cham" novelist Jon Trigell.

For the first time the female ranks were less one kilt wearing Courchevel regular Jennifer Clare. Unfortunately her current job conflicted with the race.

First Courchevel skier down the course was Jenna Shail (La Tania) who set a very respectable time of 45.93 putting her in 3rd place in the womens ranking.

For the snowboarders, Ski Supremes Stevie Trolland narrowly misses the top spot by just over 1/2 second.

Once again everyone was eclipsed by Aussie "guest" Sarah Sauvey's time of 37.65 who is currently ranked 23rd in the world of skiercross which probably explains her good form. Last years winner Craig Conkie, could only manage a 3rd place (4th overall).

LOST!!!

One penis, short, shrivelled and always to the left disappeared due to extreme cold weather on 27th Nov 2008. Answers to Jonathon or anything after 9pm, many miles on the clock and one careless owner. If located do not introduce to moist, dark areas or it will expand rapidly. Test drive and reward available 0609833623

Now the season has entered it's lowest of the low season certain companies have looking at their booking sheets for the rest of the season and have been working on their Alan Sugar apprentice impressions. "You're fired!" Now that's fine in general but when the only cause for dismissal is because a spotty accountant thinks he can save a quick buck then it isn't.

It actually smacks of a double standard. When every employee is asked to sign a contract that promises 5 months of work which if broken results in loss of deposit etc. But if a company feels the need they can just let people go, giving them as little as a week to leave their staff accommodation and find another position.

The irony is, if things pick up then it will cost the company more to fly replacement people out and considering most of the costs for the staff have already been paid at the beginning of the season. Accommodation, lift pass etc

Quote of the Week

"I used to be respectable but now I'm a drunkard"
Toni(Inghams) squarely blames her debauchery on Debbie(Inghams).

The curse of Les Anemones continues

Another week and another injury. This time it was Toni(Inghams)(right) who is currently using the company crutches. Unlike her boss(left) her injury was incurred on the Kalico dance floor and not the slopes. To be more precise but without getting too technical she has joined the ranks of many a premiere league footballer (unfortunately not because of her pay packet) and done something to her metatarsal.
