Elsa(Powderwhite) releases her leopard

Snobituary

Gorgeous George – gone but not forgotten*

On Wednesday we lost a shining light of the ski bum masses. Since December George had been a prominent figure propped up against various bars around resort. To have called him accident prone is a slight understatement. Since his arrival he had managed to injure his finger, broke his nose, dislocated his collarbone and all without stepping out onto the slopes. He leaves behind a troubled Will Gill and his adopted Powder white family. He will be greatly missed. After consulting a medium a second coming is rumoured in March.

(* He's not dead, he's just gone home)

Things I've learnt this week

- 1
Jimbo's favorite movies are the Bodyguard
- 2
and Dirty Dancing
- 3
Jen(Killi)'s bladder goes a bit haywire when she races.
- 4
Sally(Magic) is easily faster at slalom than Sam(Ultimate)

The Courchevel Enquirer

A close second for Ben

Ben(Powder white) the 2nd fastest seasonaire in the 3 valleys*

A very bad season

For anyone who hasn't seen BBC Switch's The season (lets call them the lucky ones) it follows the very dull love lives of a bunch of spoilt seasonaires in Val d'Isere. As it was made for Switch, which is aimed at teens, it means it couldn't contain any vices in any way. No smoking, no drinking, no nudity. Just good wholesome teen relationships. I know, pretty boring!

What is less well known is back in October 2008 I was contacted by one of the programs creators who asked me, as a veteran of Courchevel, if the resort would be a suitable place to have such a program in. As they described the group of seasonaires they were looking for I replied in the negative and instead pointed them in the direction of Val. For those who are glad that Courchevel was spared such mediocrity I accepted your praise. For anyone in Val who got caught up in it I apologise sincerely.

A note from the editor

As we enter February it's only 7 days until the seasonaire hoody forms have to be returned to me. Please make sure they have everones name on the form regardless of whether they want to order a top.

Wednesday saw the workers challenge, part of the Natives show love tour, in Meribel. Consisting of both an individual giant slalom and a team slalom. In the individual GS Jamie from Scott Dunn, Ben from Powder white and Jen from the Killimandjaro represented Courchevel 1850 with some performing better than others. Donning her go faster kilt Jen Rocky's Bar is traditional British sports bar which is apart of Ski Olympic and is one of its 3 chalet hotels in the 3 Vallees. It offers great hospitality for guests and also visitors to Courchevel 1650. Having a wide selection of food and at a very affordable price for Courchevel it attracts alot of tourists to the terrace every week in the season. Rocky's also has happy hour from 4-8pm everyday and a themed dress up night every second Tuesday. Come down to Rocky's as we show live football all day and will be the home for the 2010 Winter Olympics.

Jen(Killi) gets her racing kilt out was the first down the course but unfortunately missed one of the final gates resulting in her disqualification. In a spot of pre race Navy/Airforce baiting James(Scott dunn) doned his Army t-shirt and finished in the middle of the pack. Finally Ben(Powder white) finished in 9th place which, after the instructors were removed, equated to 2nd of the workers. Following a mistake by John at the prize giving he was briefly promoted to first until the true winner, Buck, was announced. A notable mention should also go to Elsa from Powderwhite for a) winning the female seasonnaire category and more importantly b) racing in a figure-hugging leopard print cat suit. (please note no leopards were harmed in the making of the suit).

In the team event Courchevel were again victorious with Team Swyss (grammar nazis please note this is not a misspelling but actually a new clothing brand) International who cruised their way to the final and beyond.

As always if you wish to peruse the photos taken at the Natives workers challenge and over the whole season then go to the enquirer website and don't forget if you wish to receive the enquirer directly in your email inbox you can sign up on www.courchevelenquirer.com.
