The road to Tignes/Val d'Isere was closed....

A note from the editor

What did you do last Wednesday? If you, for whatever reason, didn't managed to make it to Milk to listen to DJ Yoda you really missed out. I'm not the greatest music aficionado but even I thought, with my head stuck most of the night in the glasswasher, it was rather special. Sure it cost most people 10/20 euros but, judging by everyone reactions, was well worth it.

This following week I will be mostly hanging out in Tignes covering the winter X-Games. Don't forget it's all about the Pimps and Hoes in the Milk bar on Tuesday night. A Burton (fear) snowboard is up for grabs in the raffle courtesy of Endless winter. If you are not working on Saturday evening (5pm) and like racing I would highly recommend entering the Derby du Roc Merlet, a chinese downhill in 1650 starting at the bottom of the Roc Merlet chair and finishing in the Croisette in 1650, registration is available from ESF in 1650.

THE SURGEON GENERAL WARNS

Doing ski seasons can be highly addictive, can seriously damage your sanity, result in a general lack of sleep, makes your arse bigger, increase the chances of getting a blow job in the skidoo hut outside Kudeta and waking up next to a complete stranger.

What really amuses

Every week we shall ask what really tickles Aaron's funny bone. This week....

Being a VIP

He might spend most of the day selling baggy salopettes and planks to the snowboarding inclined but as the sun goes down he leads a double life.

As everyone knows Aaron is a larger than life style icon and man about town. When he turns up to a club there is no waiting in line. The rope is taken down and he (and those lucky enough to be counted as his entourage) goes straight to the bar. Tables and booths are cleared for his arrival giving him the best views of which ever guest DJs dares to grace his presence.

The Les Menuires 7 (part III)

After last weeks report of the success of the LM7 where the seven former chalet workers were due to receive their payments, which ranged from between 1,000 and 1,500 euros each, on 29 February, however, it hasn't turned up. The company in question, Skithe3v, has now closed down and the Les Menuires 7 now look like they might not get their money as their former boss is now 'untraceable'.

Local Russian loses election

visiting Russian students breath a sigh of relief

Mikhail Prokhorov, the Russian billionaire, who was arrested in Courchevel 2007 on suspicion of arranging prostitutes for his guests, after three days he was released without charge. (According to the French prosecutor, he had paid all expenses for the girls, but they were neither professional prostitutes, nor working for a prostitution agency.) decided a few months ago to challenge Vladimir Putin in the 2012 Russian presidential election.

Prokhorov, who finished third in the election, was measured in his comments, which was probably wise considering Putin has started rounding up protestors and opposition leaders: "From the very beginning, they were not fair, but I knew that they would be that way when I started." Prokhorov was a system player; he was not prepared to dismiss today's vote as illegitimate.

Gossip of the week

Apparently Simon's(Ski Total) sex lift is going through a 7 month dry spell. As you can imagine a little frustration is starting to build. Any Ski Esprit nannies (as they are apparently the most qualified) who want to relieve him of this tension should contact the cascades in 1650. They might also want to be bring lube.

In the race of the tortoise and the hare, the slow and steady wins the race. After a (very) slow start Joey(Ski Total) is starting to find his feet. Co-worker (and now not so innocent) Cece has had a certain glow about her recently. Rumour has it that a certain red head in Rockies has also been in Joey's sights.

ps. Anyone looking to perform a satanic right or need to sacrifice a "fair maiden", Cece is no longer available or suitable for such practices.

Whats your price?

Think of what is one of your most treasured items? Something of little or no real value except in sentimentality. Now think how much money would it take for you to be parted from it? What would be your indecent proposal (without sleeping with Demi Moore) Now after thinking of a silly amount now wonder if a Russian gentleman would agree to it.

UDI of the week

While popping out for a cigarette at the Milk, April "fell down a hole". Pretty impressive as there are no holes outside Milk but then this is April we are talking about.

WANT YOU!

to dish the dirt

The Courchevel Enquirer comes out every Saturday. I look forward to hearing from you.

Confidentiality assured! honestly!!

One of the major criticisms, One of the MANY major criticisms I get about this paper is that of all the Courchevel villages it only covers 1850 and sometimes 1650. The explanation for this is simple. I live in and drink around the bars of 1850 and so I hear what goes on in 1850. That's were you come in. If you have any stories, gossip, photos, suggestions etc. I want to hear from you.

I am usually in one of the 1850 bars every evening. Alternatively for those of you who are more technically minded you can email be directly on info@courchevelenquirer.com
