JANUARY BLUES

Amazing what Ski Total can do with a bin bag or two.

A note from the editor

Issue number 8 and two months into the winter season, New years is just a distant memory (depending on how much alcohol was consumed) and many familiar faces have now left resort for various familiar reasons. For the ones that are left the one thing I hear most often (twice) is "I love my job but I can't stand my co-workers".

Being that I have never had the pleasure of employment with shared accommodation included the thought of sharing my life for 5 months with a couple of strangers can only be imagined. If any of them are complete slob/slappers I could understand how this might wear on my nerves.

The worse thing you could do is quit.

But I'm also reminded about something I said at the beginning of the season about meeting people from other companies. That way if you get sick of spending time with you co-workers you can also go and see other people. Did anyone listen??

Of course you could look outside at a mountain currently covered in 2 meters of snow and counting or you could count down the (ever diminishing) next 3 months or you could imagine that your annoying roommates will break something soon.

THE SURGEON GENERAL WARNS

Doing ski seasons can be highly addictive, can seriously damage your sanity, result in a general lack of sleep, makes your arse bigger, increase the chances of getting a blow job in the skidoo hut outside Kudeta and waking up next to a complete stranger.

Marissa the chased (or the chaser)

As you can see from the photo this looks like love. or does it? Is Marissa(pw) gazing deeply into Byron's eyes? Is Byron(bubble) returning the favour? Is Remi watching from the bar saying "I'd like a piece of that"?

In a slight change we find out what tickles Aaron's funny bone. This week....

The sounds Petit Pierre makes when he does a horse.

After reading the above statement let me explain before I get accused of encouraging beastilality.

In England various farm animals are known for the sounds they make. For example a crowing cockerel goes "cock-a-doodle-doo". In France the same animal goes "cocorico". An English dog goes "woof! woof!" whereas his French cousin goes "ouah! ouah!". So an English horse goes "neigh". If you want to hear how a French horse sounds why don't you ask Petit Pierre I guarantee you will be amused.

Local mechanic and Panda afficiando Petit Pierre highlights some of the motors circling Courchevel.

What does the man who has everything (or at least most of the Courchevel monopoly board) drive?

A newly camoed modified toyota jeep with a custom made wooden back box. At least he isn't immune to getting parking tickets.

And then there were two

As the story of the Jelly baby statues ever continues, five becomes three becomes two.

Disappearing almost as fast as an Italian cruise ship captain into a lifeboat (topical!)

After rumours of abuse and neglect social services have taken the remaining jelly baby into care leaving the two adults on their own.

It's not looking good for their future together. Mrs Violet Jellybaby was seen out drinking with a ski instructor and there are reports that Red is not longer satisfying her sexually.

Quote of the week

“Where did you get that X-Games hat?”

“At the X-Games!”

Injury of the week

People might have noticed Jeremy has been on his own in the refuge for the past couple of days. This is because Jimbo surcomed to an injury to the foot.

While doing a corked 540 off a black kicker in the park? Or while being attacked by a flower pot outside Coyotte?

Which ever one, it resulted in Jimbo injuring the extensor hallucis

longus, in laymans

terms thats a ligament in his big toe and apparently that deserves 4 days off work.

The Rumour mill

After one of her more drunken nights out April(MW) recieved a pump from “One pump” Joe(Total).

Sophie(Crystal) is apparently quite “handy” when it comes to her job according to Pete (Flexiski).

WANT YOU!

to dish the dirt

The Courchevel Enquirer comes out every Saturday. I look forward to hearing from you.

Confidentiality assured! honestly!!

One of the major criticisms, One of the MANY major criticisms I get about this paper is that of all the Courchevel villages it only covers 1850 and sometimes 1650. The explanation for this is simple. I live in and drink around the bars of 1850 and so I hear what goes on in 1850. That's were you come in. If you have any stories, gossip, photos, suggestions etc. I want to hear from you.

I am usually in one of the 1850 bars every evening. Alternatively for those of you who are more technically minded you can email be directly on info@courchevelenquirer.com

Seasonnaire Hoodies / t-shirts

Just a note to say that forms for the seasonnaire hoodies have starting to make an appearance this week. The hoodies this year are a higher quality than last seasons with features including thumb holes in the sleeves and special ipod pockets. In keeping with past years the design will use the alcoholic brand of Absolute Vodka as it's inspiration. If you would like a form or have any questions please give me a call on 0675643234
